The Occasional.

It transpires that the political atmosphere of the Great East needs cleaning as well as the fog in this end of the state. Some one in Eureka has started a paper called The Occasional, which appears with the following prospectus.

We publish this week the first number of the Occasional. Hereafter the paper will be published occasionally when circumstances seem to require. Our little paper will be devoted to the honest advocacy of the Silver interests, independent of party affiliation, and to the exposure of blackmailers, liars and sham reformers. We shall also give to our readers honest information in regard to mining matters in this district. We have no doubt that the decent of both parties will hail the appearance of our little journal with pleasure.

Its mission is to show up the tough character in Eureka county who mix the political broth. It promises some sensational revelations in the next number. If the press of this State does not soon begin to show up the political rottenness of their respective towns, the public will start papers of their own, to tell the truth.

Commendable Action.

The Reno School Board have decided to close the public schools next Friday for one week to give the pupils a mental breathing spell—a short spring vacation. They have acted wisely in so doing. Six month of steady school work—the time from January 1st to the summer vacation—is too hard a strain upon the average pupil if he is doing earnest work. A short rest in the middle of such term is now advocated by educators everywhere, and is generally observed by all progressive schools and colleges. Men and women who are accustomed to daily work throughout the year are apt to forget the requirements of boys and girls for occasional rest and recreation. The teachers may not be in need of such rest, but their pupils will certainly be benefited thereby. So boys and girls enjoy yourselves next week, and return thereafter stronger and happier, with renewed zeal and interest in your studies.—Gazette.

THE DEATH VALLEY LEDGE.

What a Prospector Thinks of the New Find.

The news is out of an alleged great gold discovery in Nevada down in the Death Valley region. If the story proves true there is bound to be an immense rush to that section within the next few months. The discovery was made by Mr. Montgomery, who has appeared in San Francisco with some of the richest gold quartz that has been on the Pacific Coast. A gentleman connected with the Sentinel has seen Mr. Montgomery and talked with him on the subject of his new find. He locates the spot at the head of Pahump valley, in the southwestern corner of Nye county, and not a long distance from Resting Springs. Montgomery says he remained on the ground five days after making the discovery. During these five days he dug a trench through or across the decomposed cropping twenty feet long and about three feet deep. It was from this excavation that he took his specimens. He located all the ground he wanted and is now willing that the world shall know of his find. Several parties have already gone to the new district. George O'Briter, formerly of Safford, this county, and Warren Sheridan, formerly of Virginia City, were among the first to start. George O'Briter is the man who discovered Tuscarora and is a veteran prospector. The nearest railroad point to the new camp is Daggett, on the line of the Atchinson and Santa Fe, in San Bernardino county, California. The distance from Daggett is about 160 miles in a northerly direction. The distance from Eureka via Belmont or Pahrump valley would be approximately 300 miles in a southwesterly direction. Montgomery thinks he has found the celebrated Breyfogle or Gun Sight lode. Old timers will remember that there have been traditions for forty years of an immensely rich gold ledge somewhere near Death Valley. Many attempts have been made to discover it. Breyfogle himself headed several parties from Austin, and spent his life in trying to return to it, claiming that he had once run across it while lost. He was somehow so turned around that he could never go back to it. The great trouble has been the lack of water, prospectors not daring to venture a great distance from the well beaten track or remain long in the country. The ore found by Montgomery is certainly very rich. He looks like an honest man and doubtless tells a truthful story about his discovery. He brought to San Francisco a good sized sack of the ore. It shows coarse, nugget gold all through it. There is just this doubt thrown upon the value of the new find. The gold seems too coarse to be generally diffused through the whole body or mass of the rock. It might be what we describe, for the want of a better name, a specimen mine. There have been such mines found on this Coast that would not pay for working. But if the samples shown by Montgomery are an indication of the value of the whole ledge, and it goes down, there can be no question that a great discovery has been made, and one that is certain to cause an immense rush of people to that section of Nevada.

Lake News.

It has been reported that several parties at McKinney's are suffering with la grippe.

The lake during the late storms has risen fifteen inches, and from present indications will be higher than last season.

At Tahoe city last week the population was increased by the arrival of a boy. Capt. Pete Wherman is doing the treating.

Tom McGee, of San Francisco, made his usual winter travels up the mountains, and one day last week in company with several others ascended Mount Tallac and ate chicken dinner.

The telephone between Lake Tahoe and Truckee, which the late storms have destroyed in several places, is in running order, and all communication will be received as usual by Mr. Burton.

A Social Session.

The following appeared in the Enterprise on the last appearance of the Company:

"A Social Session" is advertised as a very funny entertainment, and those who were at Piper's opera house last evening have additional faith in advertisements. There is not a single cry in the whole show. But there is a laugh for almost every line in it. The fun is of that character which does not require any hard thinking to appreciate. Everybody laughs and laughs hard. While the auditors were not laughing they were being highly entertained with music and song. The house was packed to the doors and everybody went home happy. They will appear at the Carson Opera House to-night.

Cleveland's Minstrels.

This is an exceptionally strong attraction. Among the many prominent names on its roll are Billy Emerson (who is still "happy as a big sun-flower"), Hughey Dougherty, Barney Fagan, Luke Schoolcraft, Griffin and Marks, Fields and Hanson, Signor Benedetto, the marvelous male soprano (an importation), Raymond Shaw, Chas. Noble and J. Marcus Doyle. The Cragg Troupe of gentlemen acrobats, another novelty from Europe, will be featured in the olio. Fagan's two productions will be put on elaborately having cost not less than $15,000.

Charged With Burglary.

On the 26th, Harry Freedlander and Ah Ling missed from their safe in Chinatown, $625 in gold and some jewelry.

They swore out a warrant against George Duffy, charging him with having broken open the safe. He was seen coming out of the back door of the place a few minutes before the money was missed. Justice Hawthorne fixed his bail at $2,000. He will plead this morning at 10 o'clock.

The New Organ.

There was a packed congregation at the Episcopal Church on Sunday to hear the new pipe organ and witness the Easter services. The chancel was buried under a mass of beautiful flowers, which vied in coloring with the new Easter bonnets. Rev. Holmes preached a very eloquent sermon, and the new pipe organ was artistically handled by John P. Meder.

Special Train.

The National Guard of Virginia City, will give a ball at Piper's Opera House on the 10th. A special train will run from here, and the round trip including the admission will be $1 75 each. At such rates there ought to be a large crowd.

Sandrock and Millard, practical plumbers and gasfitters, have opened a shop in Dick Mills' old stand South Carson St., and propose to do all work in their line at prices so low that you don't have to mortgage your property, to pay them.
